

RED SQUARE AND ST BASIL'S CATHEDRAL

“Red” means beautiful in old Russian and visiting the country’s most famous landmark, it is easy to see why. Red Square achieved UNESCO World Heritage Site status in 1990 and is home to the city’s most recognizable building, St Basil’s Cathedral. Open to the public, it includes exhibits on the history of Russia and the cathedral itself.

www.saintbasil.ru/en

KREMLIN AND ARMOURY CHAMBER

This historic complex in the heart of Moscow is the former residence of Czars and contains glorious artefacts from Russia’s past. See some of the finest diamonds in the world alongside an impressive collection of Faberge eggs in The Armoury Chamber. The cathedrals contain works of art dating back to the 11th century.

www.kreml.ru/en